BOLD CONSPIRATORS.

A Plot to Wreck and Rob a Mail Train Discovered—London Gossip.

Still a Ray of Hope That Dr. Peters and Party Are Still Alive.

ROME, Nov. 9.—La Tanfulla reports that a plot organized on a large scale to seize the mails from India on their way through Italy, has been discovered. These mails are received at Brindisi and dispatched thence overland to England. Their contents are more valuable than those of any other mail sent through the continent.

MASSACRE DENIED.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—The Tagblatt has a special dispatch from Zanzibar which discredits the story that Dr. Peters and his party were massacred, and declares until confirmatory news is received there is no reason to give up hope.

DIED IN CHILD BIRTH.

Sofia, Nov. 9.—The wife of the deposed ruler of Bulgaria, Prince Alexander, of Battenburg, died in child-birth at Graz. She was formerly an opera singer, Mari Loisinger. Her marriage with the prince, which caused a social and political sensation, took place on the 6th of February last.

STRIKE AVOIDED.

London, Nov. 9.—A threatened strike of miners in Fife has been avoided by the mine owners conceding twelve and a half per cent. advance in wages.

At Bombay Prince Albert Victor of Wales received a most enthusiastic welcome on his arrival in that city.

LORD MAYOR'S DAY.

London Nov. 9—The new Lord Mayor, Sir Asron Isaacs, was installed in office to-day. The customary procession of a Lord Mayor's show took place embracing the usual features. The weather was cloudy.

LIGHT SHOCK.

Tunis, Nov. 9.—An earthquake occurred here to-day, but the shock was too slight to cause any damage.

BOLD BOULANGISTS.

They Propose to Take Very Radical Measures.

Paris, Nov. 9.—The fact that Boulangism is not dead is evidenced by the announcement to-day in the organ of the faction. A notice states there will be a meeting of the general's adherents next Tuesday and that the participants will march to the Chamber of Deputies and make a protest against the seating of M. Jonfrain as representative of Mantomartre district. Jonfrain, who was Boulanger's opponent in the late election received only 5550 votes out of a total of 14,200, yet he was declared elected. The notice goes on to state that after bringing this unpleasantly to the memory of the Deputies, the Boulangists will march to the residence of President Carnot and repeat the protest to him. It is considered probable that the government will take steps to prevent the proposed demonstration.

A mother's secret hope outlives them all."

Personals, Royal and Otherwise—Life of Beaconsfield.

London, Nov. 9.—The Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh and their daughter have gone to Coburg. The Duke is preparing to reside there permanently.

Mr. Parnell's action for libel against the Times has been adjourned until spring.

Mr. Gladstone, upon being questioned as to whether his Irish parliament would have power to endow Roman Catholic educational institutions in Ireland, said: "An Irish parliament should not have that power other than denominational education ought to be abolished in Great Britain, but this would not please the sectarians of England and Scotland."

Mr. Spurgeon has severed his connection with the Baptist Missionary Society with the purpose of forming a tabernacle society to send independent missions abroad.

Dr. Parker has accepted the presidency of the Congregational Union of 1890.

Mr. Froude has completed his "Life of Beaconsfield."

Active managers of the London theatres have formed a club society which is to be exclusively their own.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of the Movements of Well Known Persons.

J. C. Henderson, merchant of Chilliwhack, is in the city.

Mrs. J. Sehl and daughter, will leave for San Francisco to-morrow.

Thornton Fell, barrister, has been in San Francisco for some time past.

Mrs. Gravely, of Vancouver, is a passenger for the south by the City of Puebla sailing to-morrow.

Capt. Roop, of the bark Norcross, returned from Vancouver last evening, whither he had been in connection with that Vancouver "freight." Mrs. Roop accompanied him.

E. Crow Baker and wife will shortly leave on a trip to Birkenhead, England. Mr. Baker, it is understood, goes to arrange certain family affairs which underwent a change through the death of his father.

W. A. Dyer, representative in this city of a large English woolen house, has just returned from his annual trip over the Pacific coast. He has been away six weeks, and travelled over seven states.

Capt. Dan Campbell and family came down on the Islander last night, they having come from the east. Several friends welcomed them on their arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pardy were passengers by the Umatilla which arrived from San Francisco last night en route to Seattle. Mrs. Pardy, nee Storey, visited her family while the boat lay here.

O. H. Goodwin, the piano manufacturer, will leave to-morrow for Southern California for the benefit of his health, and will be absent about three weeks.

Mr. H. Fitzpatrick, of Picton, N. S., is registered at the Driard. He was one of the most successful contractors on the C. P. Ry., on the Thunder Bay section, where rumor has it that he made "barrels of money." He is delighted with his trip over the C. P. R. and with Victoria. He will remain a few days and proceed home via San Francisco.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

A Resume of Events in the Sporting Arena.

Jimmy Faulkner, the light weight wrestler, has won the match, best three out of five falls mixed styles, defeating Charley Eyton, the Australian.

WRESTLING.

A special train will leave Nanaimo next Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock to bring down parties who wish to witness the McLeod-Cameron wrestling match.

OPERA HOUSE OPENED.

After some delays and disappointments the Nanaimo opera house was opened on Thursday evening with a performance by Liberatti's famous band. A crowded house was present. The band repeated the concert last night.

QUINN WINS.

The great five fall collar-and-elbow match between Quinn of this city, and Donovan of Australia, came off at Seattle last night and was won by Quinn. The first two falls were got by Donovan, who is a hard man to beat, but he lost his wind and Quinn got the next three falls, taking the stakes. The Victorian is now undisputed champion of the coast.

CAMERON WORSE.

The wet weather is proving bad for Cameron, his lame shoulder being very sore. His backers are looking rather blue, and ask for odds. McLeod men are sure of an easy victory and back their man well.

A dancing contest was to have come off last night for stakes of $20 a side between Messers Oliver and Smith, but the latter failing to put in an appearance, the latter wins the match.

HART-SHADE WALK.

A ten mile heel-and-toe contest between Shade and Hart, the New York pedestrian, takes place in the Yates street rink to-night, also a wrestle between Quinn and Whistler, a young California wrestler for a purse. Style, catch-as-catch-can, Quinn to throw his opponent five times in one hour actual wrestling.

The greatest interest centres in the walking match as it is believed, although Hart is a graceful walker and great stayer, that Shade can beat him in ten miles.

ASTONISHED AND DELIGHTED.

Lord Stanley Finds Victoria Just Suits Him.

A telegraphic correspondent of the Winnipeg Sun signing himself "Nursey," who has forwarded regular telegraph reports to that paper during the progress west of the Vice-Regal party, sent the following from this city on Monday last: "This day has been a day of days. A warm sun, cool but clear. From Beacon Hill, three hundred feet above the Straits of Fuca, where we stood this afternoon surrounded by laurels, Douglas fir, moss and velvety lawns, Mount Baker shone in glistening colors, fifteen thousand feet in distinctness above the beaches of Washington Territory. To the west the Olympian mountains rose in purple comb, tipped by the setting sun shafts, whilst in the east a crescent moon, a maze of silver glorified with its virgin glitter, appeared the coast range peaks. For relative wealth, for scenic wonderland, for wide-open Sunday saloons, for absence of great business rush, for a plentitude of womanly beauty, and a pervading civic charm that finds no expressive equivalent in Webster, give me Victoria. The ball at Esquimalt was a drench of electric light and necromatic decorations. The Vice-Regal party were astonished and delighted. Yesterday His Excellency drove around the city, received a deputation from the board of trade, and, though booked for the Chinese theatre, was unable to attend owing to a dinner at Government House. To-morrow the regiment of Canadian artillery will be inspected, the Jockey club races attended, and possibly the public schools.

Mr. Colmer, C. M. G., of London, is here. The hotels are crowded and everyone brimming with enthusiasm."

Kinney Bros. Special Favours Cigarettes are matchless.

LADIES TO THE FRONT

$100,000 Donated to the John Hopkins University by Mrs. Donovan.

A Ten Million Heiress Receives the Veil, Decides to Enter a Convent.

New York, Nov. 9.—Dow, Jones & Co's news agency issues the following Boston special: Advance in north western rates would seem to indicate that the C. B. and N. has silenced the "Soo" line, at least for the present. The milling in transit system, is still in vogue, but well informed people are inclined to believe that the C. B. & N. will also dispose of that when the time comes. The Manitoba brings in about one-half of the grain that is received in St. Paul and Minneapolis and if the Manitoba should make transit over the C. B. & N., its national ally, the St. Paul would also be forced to acknowledge the connection.

W. C. T. U.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The sixteenth annual meeting of the National Women's Temperance Union opened its session this morning. All the prominent leaders in the movement are present, and Miss Frances Villard is presiding.

HEAVY LOSS.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 9.—The Pioneer Buggy Company's factory is burning and cannot be saved. In the building also are the Columbus Steel Range Company and Busch & Collins, brass finishers. The total loss is probably $75,000.

ENTERS A CONVENT.

Pittsburg, Nov. 9.—A $10,000,000 heiress has bidden farewell to the world. Miss Kate Drexel, second daughter of F. A. Drexel, of Philadelphia, has taken the white veil of the novitiate in this city. The ceremony was exclusive, and was conducted by Archbishop Ryan and Bishop Phelan, assisted by many priests.

A BIGAMIST'S FLIGHT.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9—The President has refused to grant the application for the pardon of E. Patterson, of Utah, who was convicted of bigamy and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary at Salt Lake City. His first wife has worked hard for his pardon, but owing to his brutal treatment of her and his evident unrepentant demeanor, Attorney-General Millar recommends that the pardon be not granted, the President therefore refused it.

SMALL POX.

New York, Nov. 9—South American advices received to-day say that small pox has carried off nearly one-third of the population of the Falkland Islands.

HIS DESSERTS.

Chattanooga, Nov. 9.—Dr. Rerchersinds will be hanged at Ducktown next Tuesday as the governor has refused to interfere. Rerchersinds was a prominent physician. He eloped with the wife of James Ledford and becoming jealous murdered her by shooting her through the head.

FOG IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 9.—The city has been shrouded all morning in a dense fog, almost unparalleled in its long continuance and its density. It is necessary at this hour, 11 a.m., to have gas lighted in many stores. The elevated railway traffic has been much delayed, and trains are moving very slowly. In the harbor there has been much difficulty in navigating ferry boats and steamships. The steamship Werra, on the way out, had a narrow escape from collision with a Chambers street ferry boat while in mid stream.

A LONG FALL.

Los Angeles, Nov. 9.—A scaffolding on a building in course of erection, gave way yesterday afternoon while eight men were working upon it. Six escaped by jumping to the flooring inside the building, but two were precipitated to the ground a distance of thirty feet. One bricklayer named Graham was seriously and hopelessly injured, the other, a colored hod-carrier, received severe injuries but will recover.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE.

Huntsville, Texas, Nov. 9—Fifteen convicts made an attempt to escape from the penitentiary last night. A ladder had been placed at the end of the institution and four men had started up having first caught one guard and held him before them as a shield against the shots of the others. Three of them reached the top, but the guard having escaped from their hands they were fired upon as soon as they jumped. One man was killed and two others wounded; the fourth was shot before he reached the top.

THIRTY YEARS.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Julian Portelli, who murdered John Mefsutt, his partner in the chicken peddling business, was sentenced to 30 years in the State prison to-day.

BAR!

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Inflammatory circulars are being quietly distributed today by local socialists announcing that a memorial meeting will be held on Monday next to commemorate the anniversary of the executions of the Chicago anarchists and urging the working men to attend. The circulars characterize the hanging as a "judicial murder."

TRAIN BELIEVED.

Boston, Nov. 9.—George Francis Train was released from prison to-day, Judge McKim ruling that he did not deem him sufficiently insane to be sent to an asylum nor sufficiently sane to be held for debt.

PERSONAL.

New York, Nov. 9.—Hon. Solomon Hirsch, of Portland, Oregon, United States minister to Turkey, with his family sailed to-day on the Cunard steamer Etruria.

DEFIANT TRUST.

New York, Nov. 9.—The sugar trust has decided to appeal from the decision of yesterday rendered dissolving the North River Refining Co.

A BLOODY AFFAIR.

San Francisco, Nov. 9—A special dis. from Lardes, Texas, says that a merchant named Muteries was killed by two customs officers on the road between Mier and Camago, Mexico, last Sunday because he refused to stop and be searched.

At Mier the officers were lynched, soldiers and gendarmes arriving too late to save their lives. A general fight then resulted and ten or fifteen people were killed or wounded.

A SEALER IN DISGUISE.

Rumor That a Supposed American Whaler Will be Seized.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—It is rumored that the whaling schooner Jane Gray, which is reported to have captured one whale and left the north for this port, will be seized by the revenue marine service as soon as she arrives. The reason given for the reported intended seizure is that the Jane Gray, instead of being a whaler is in reality an illegal sealer, and that instead of having caught a whale and stowed the bone and oil in her hold, she has a load of seal skins valued at $40,000. The Jane Gray is owned in New Bedford. It is also rumored that she will avoid seizure by shaping her course for Honolulu, Japan, or Victoria.

ONCE MARRIED.

A Tie That no Authority on Earth Can Sever.

Smith's Falls, Nov. 9.—Rev. Alex. Nesbitt, rural dean and rector of St. John's Anglican church here, before delivering his sermon on Sunday morning drew attention of his congregation to the action of Archbishop Cleary at Westport recently, which he characterized as just and right and in accordance with the true principles of Christian doctrine. Like the archbishop, whose course he defended, he said he would not only not communicate, but would excommunicate any member of the church whom he knew to be living in a similar state of adultery, for no power on earth could loose the ties that God had bound. Once married, married for ever.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

One of the frail sisters of Broad street was charged with creating a disturbance on the street. The case was not a very aggravated one, and a fine of $5 was imposed.

Phillip Chalk, the great, only and original, was again up on a charge of drunk. He pleaded guilty in his usual graceful style and a fine of $5 with $1 costs was ordered.

Angus McLean, on remand, charged with larceny of a rubber coat, was sent up for three months hard labor.

Peter Brown, a son of the Hellenic Isles, was charged with beating one Augustus Ferguson, a little lad of ten years. The defendant said that while he was making a trade with a man for a deer the boy interfered, spoiling the trade, consequently defendant pushed the boy out, and struck him in the face. The little chap, who is a very intelligent lad, gave his evidence in a clear manner, but as no other witnesses were brought his honor dismissed the charge.

William Noble was charged with stealing three Chinese lanterns from Henry Saunders. The accused pleaded not guilty, and the case was remanded until Monday.

Another Pioneer Gone.

The old building which got shook up by the gale other night, and which was afterwards condemned by the board of aldermen, to-day fell a victim to the axe and crowbar of the men engaged to raze it to the ground. 'Tis thus the old landmarks fall, and it would be better were more of them to take the same course.

More Business.

The match factory on Work street, near Spratt & Gray's buildings, has been leased by the owner to a gentleman from England, who will use the premises as a storehouse for consignments of building material, etc. An office has also been fitted up where samples will be kept. An extensive line of goods are to be handled.

Tramway Notes.

The engine at the power house has been bedded under the supervision of Mr. Kessler, of the Albion Iron Works. Steam will be turned on shortly.

The car sheds have been completed. In them are pits for six cars.

The tracklayers are now going down Johnson street to Store street.

The corner at Yates and Government streets has been cleared and the curves and switches laid.

A Diamond Gift.

Officer Chas. Miller, of the provincial police force, is in receipt of a handsome diamond pin, the gift of Lord Stanley. Accompanying the gift was the following brief note: "From Lord Stanley, with many thanks for Mr. Miller's kind attention. Victoria, Nov. 6th, 1889." Mr. Miller was quite surprised at the kindly recognition of faithful services and is pleased beyond expression at the simple note accompanying the gift.

Nanaimo Shipping.

The steamship Wellington sailed yesterday with 2600 tons of Wellington coal for San Francisco.

The steamer Alki is under the shutes loading a cargo of Wellington coal for San Francisco.

The ship Kennebec was towed to sea yesterday by the tug Pioneer with 2,300 tons of V. C. Co's coal for San Francisco.

The bark Oregon is under the shutes loading coal of V. C. Co's coal for San Francisco.

The New Collector.

The report is sent from Ottawa that Hon. W. Hamley will be superannuated before the close of the year, and that Mr. A. R. Milne, the present appraiser of customs, will be appointed collector for Victoria in his stead. If the report should prove to be true and we believe it will, it will no doubt receive the approval of the public generally. It will be carrying out the principle of deserved promotion which unfortunately is so uncommon in the civil service of all countries. In Mr. Milne the city will have a gentleman capable of grappling with the important duties of his office.

The "Oh My" Rock.

The point in Haro channel at which the Amphion grounded when on the way to Vancouver, is well known to people who were connected with the telegraph system when the cable connecting Vancouver Island with the continent was laid under the water near that point. When crossing there the cable was continually in trouble, on account of the rapid current and the uneven character of the bottom. A gentleman, who was at one time chief of the service, informed a reporter that in making soundings there one day he found 50 fathoms of water and a yard or two away 170 fathoms. He could quite understand how a vessel passing up there and steering by the compass could be carried in by the current which runs there.

Sir John Grant.

One of the subjects which some people have called up for discussion during the last day or two was whether the small matter of knighthood had been mooted to Mayor Grant during the visit of the vide-regal party. Some people said it had and had been declined by his worship. In order to get at the bottom of the matter a reporter of THE TIMES interviewed the chief magistrate, and with that assurance, born of long practice in the business, put the question straight to him. His worship stoutly replied "Oh nonsense, tut, nonsense!" The scribe concluded that there was nothing in it, though there is no reason why it should not be so and Sir John Grant would be a "gay gaid name" to go through this fleeting world with.

CANADIAN DISPATCHES

Decrease in the Receipts From the Chinese Head Tax—Amphion Matter.

Klotz, the Astronomer Returns From Alaska—Fishermen in Distress.

Special to THE TIMES.

OTTAWA, Nov. 9.—The local press deals editorially with the accident to H. M. S. Amphion and argues that thorough enquiries ought to be made into the causes.

DECREASE IN RETURNS.

At the customs department to-day it was learned that the customs dues collected for Chinese immigration for October last was $3167 compared with $10,999, a decrease of $7,832 for the same month of last year.

THE ALASKA BOUNDARY.

Otto J. Klotz, astronomer of the interior department, has returned from Alaska, where he has been gathering data to be used in negotiations for the settlement of the Alaska boundary.

LABRADOR FISHERIES.

The failure of the Labrador fisheries and destitution of the fishermen are attributed to the inroads of American and French fishermen, who use trap nets and other engines for the wholesale destruction of fish. It is asserted that during the season vessels from Gloucester swept their shores getting a full cargo, and treating the three-mile limit with contempt. The fishery department is making an investigation.

MAIL THIEVES DETECTED.

For some time past pilfering from money letters by mail clerks en route between here and Port Arthur has been going on, but it was not until the arrest of George Catelier, son of the Registrar-General, yesterday evening, that a clue was obtained to the guilty parties. Catelier was caught by decoy letters. He pleaded guilty and has given away his accomplices with the result that one Hayes was arrested this afternoon and two or three more arrests are expected to follow.

DISTRESS IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Reports from Halifax state that there is much distress among the fishermen at Terrence Bay and Lower Prospect, west Halifax. It is confirmed that nearly half the population in each village is on the brink of starvation owing to the failure of the fishing. Twenty or thirty families of each place, numbering nearly 200 persons, have consumed every scrap of food they could obtain. The provisions now have to be sent to them or many will undoubtedly perish from hunger.

NO POTLATCH.

Chief Shakes Writes to Correct a Wrong Impression.

Chief Shakes, of the Kit-kat-labs, desires it to be understood that he has no intention of giving a potlatch. He will leave for the north to-night, and wishes to correct the rumor before leaving. The following is the letter:

November 9, 1889.

VICTORIA FRIEND.—I am very thankful because you put it on your newspaper I am going to have a big potlatch. It's not a potlatch. Last Thursday I went to the Methodist church. I see friends collecting there to help the church, and I gave $10 myself to help the church. This is the commencing. I am going to my friends. I am going to call the Fort Simpson Christian people and have a big Christmas dinner with me rich and poor. I will tell you how much I am going to present for my friend—more than ten thousand dollars, rich and poor—and not call the potlatch. I want to say this, who make the blankets to stop make the blankets. It's no use for the Indian, because we know your laws against our potlatch. We wonder how the Indian is going to enjoy themselves. Please put this in your news. My name is

MR. SHAKES,
The Great Chief of the Kit-kat-labs.

He Knew It All.

There are certain men in this world who know it all. One of them was near the lake at Beacon Hill yesterday, in company with a lady. He was explaining to her the habits of the seal, which had just been given a fish. The seal took his dinner under the water, and the travelling encyclopedia informed the lady that this was done that the seal could drown the fish. The lady expressed wonder that the long hair of the seal could make the fine fur in the seal skin sacques. She was then told that only the young seal were killed for their skins, and that when young their hair was short and made good fur! A party who overheard the conversation was of the opinion that the instructor should read up on natural history.

To Avoid Typhoid Fever.

It is just as well to go and add that New Haven isn't the only city with typhoid fever, says the Hartford Courant. At this season it can be found in all places, and Hartford is no exception. The advice to boil the water applies everywhere at this season of the year, whether it be well water, spring water, rain water or the flow of pure streams. It is a precautionary measure, advisable always and necessary whenever trouble threatens.

Found at Last.

For many years I suffered from croup but at last found a remedy for it in Hagyard's Yellow Oil, so that I am free from croup entirely, and recommend Yellow Oil to all others who suffer from the same disease. MADGIE McLEOD.

Calendars.

The gaudy calendar of the vintage of 1889 is now being industriously circulated by insurance agents and other business men. The get up this year is, if anything, more brilliant than ever, colors with more shades than a rainbow, are lavished with a profuseness only equaled by the glitter of bronze and gilt which ornaments the edges of the showy but useful advertising calendars.

Irritable People.

People are often irritable by reason of some exasperating skin disease which destroys comfort and good humor. Salt rheum, nettle rash, erysipelas, pimples, scald head, etc., are of this nature, they arise from bad blood, and can be cured by using Burdock Blood Bitters according to directions. n1-2w

IS THE WEST OVERDONE?

A correspondent of the New York Sun writes: "Stay east young man, stay east. Western towns," says this writer, "are built up by immigration, and lure by exaggeration, by the united efforts of boards of trade, incorporated by shrewd capitalists and a few original locators who less than a score of years ago had built their shacks on government claims." The Sun's correspondent is both right and wrong. Fortunes have been made in the west, fortunes are still to be made in the west, but the west is no place for a man who lacks energy, and presupposing as the writer evidently does, that the greater proportion of immigrants are deficient of this very quality, the warning to "stay east" is opportune. On the other hand, the energetic man, the man who is not afraid of work, and is prepared to take life as he finds it, stands a better chance of attaining a competence and even wealth in the west, in a shorter space of time than he could expect to in the east. The west is full of opportunities. This is a condition inseparable from all newly developing regions. It stands to reason that where a locality is being newly developed opportunities should be presented which seek the man and not man the opportunity. Plodding mediocrity in the east will make a comfortable living and possibly lay up some money, but the same qualification in the west will make money because values are constantly increasing. A "bread winner" puts his little capital into a farm in the east, and five years hence it will not appreciably have increased in value; the same man putting the same amount of capital into a farm in the west, exercising during the meantime a reasonable amount of energy and economy, has by virtue of the rise in land values alone succeeded to a competence. There is scarcely a foot of land in all the broad west which is in the least capable of producing but that will double in value in the next five years. The same may be said of all other businesses except, perhaps, the newspaper business. No matter what business a man enters into it cannot remain at a standstill if managed judiciously. It must grow because the country is growing. Still the warning "stay east" is not out of place. The west can be overdone. Such has been the case in many localities. Speculation has ruined many a man. That, however, the golden opportunities of the west have all disappeared is an error. There is plenty of room in the west for those who are not of the kind who fancy that gold is to be picked up on the streets.

THE TRUE INWARDNESS OF A "GENEROUS BUT INDEPENDENT SUPPORT."

Truth is stranger than fiction. Politicians are sometimes compelled to loose their tongues. Mr. Dewdney has loosed his, and thereby hangs a tale. From the Empire we learn that Mr. Dewdney's pro-Chinese banquet speech was delivered wholly on his own responsibility. It seems that during his peregrinations throughout the province, he ascertained that a lone Indian had earned in the short space of three weeks a thousand dollars netting salmon for a Fraser river cannery. This information, instead of affording Mr. Dewdney an interesting instance of industry and good luck, struck him as paving the way to an aboriginal plutocracy, which taking into consideration that he had once been an Indian agent, is perhaps not at all remarkable. Later, according to the Empire, when he arrived at Victoria, an influential delegation of the Board of Trade of that city waited on and unfolded to him the lugubrious tale that high wages were retarding progress, and wound up finally with the patriotic request that the per capita tax affecting the Chinese be reduced. Thus between the plutocratic Siwash and the doleful memorial of the Board of Trade we have the causes which prompted the exegisis of Mr. Dewdney's cheap labor dictum, and as to whether he was right or not we will now undertake to discuss. In the first place, by what method of reasoning was Mr. Dewdney able to reach the conclusion that the "province was actually suffering from the want of cheap labor" because a Siwash had struck a bonanza a-fishing? Fishermen are not employed at stated salaries. They are not so fortunate as Mr. Dewdney. The canneries offer a certain figure for fish and it cannot make any difference to them whether a fisherman catches one or a thousand, makes a thousand dollars in three weeks or in three months. But the idea of an Indian earning a thousand dollars in three weeks was too much for Mr. Dewdney's mental grasp. Without taking into consideration the conditions [illegible] and reflecting that such good fortune might not happen again for years, he jumped at the conclusion that labor is scarce, that labor is exacting, and that the salmon canning business is stifled in consequence of it. But if Mr. Dewdney's unfeigned surprise that an Indian should earn a thousand dollars in less than a month strikes one as infinitely absurd and even childish, what shall we say of the man who gives more credence to the representations of the Board of Trade than to the evidence of his own senses? On the one hand Mr. Dewdney is informed by the Board of Trade that the province is languishing for the want of cheap labor. On the other hand, by the simple exercise of the optic nerve, Mr. Dewdney could not have failed to observe that the representations of the Board of Trade were coinages of their own imagination. Under such circumstances how should Mr. Dewdney have behaved? To which should he have given the most credence, the Board of Trade or his own eyesight? How it was possible for the gentleman after traversing the width of the province, and after having drove around Victoria exercising presumably that optic nerve of his to give the lie to the evidence of his own senses by advocating Chinese labor as inseparable from progress, is one of those things which cannot be accounted for, except that he thought that the amenities of a champagne supper required that he should stultify himself. Victoria has never been more prosperous than this year. There has never been a period in her history when so many expensive improvements were in progress as now. Victoria, in fact, occupies that happy mean between prosperity and a boom which is the best sign of healthy growth. Victoria to-day, financially speaking, is the healthiest city in the North. Yet, notwithstanding, the Board of Trade—assuming the Empire's statement to be true—begs that the per capita tax on the Chinese be reduced, and Mr. Dewdney, with thick witted complaisance, endorses it. Now, in view of these facts, facts which statistics will bear out, the Board of Trade is not consistent, nor is Mr. Dewdney consistent. Both have stultified themselves; both have placed themselves on record as having deliberately misrepresented facts, and thus placing themselves in a position from which they will be anxious to recede before they are many years older. As to labor, the truth of the matter is, it is neither over nor underpaid in this province. The wage rates are as nearly equable in relation to the employer and employed as could be possible to effect without absolute unfairness to one or the other. Employers, doubtless, would prefer to pay less, and the employed doubtless would prefer to exact more, but the true mean between what is fair and unfair compatible with true progress seems to have been attained, and the relations between capital and labor are cordial, both accept the situation and harmony prevails.

But if we find in Mr. Dewdney a man who cannot trust the evidence of his own senses, who in one breath congratulates Victoria on her progress, and in the next tells her that she is suffering for Chinese cheap labor, what are we to think of that "influential delegation" of the Board of Trade who want the Chinese per capita tax reduced. Have we not an organization which will bear watching, and have we not in this per capita business the secret of the Colonist's and Mr. Earle's non-committalism in regard to the Restriction Act? Nothing is clearer. Mr. Dewdney's statement of the Board of Trade's request that the per capita tax be reduced lets the cat out of the bag. The Board of Trade, in fact, stands revealed as in favor of the repeal of the Restriction Act. In the light of Mr. Dewdney's revelation the refusal of the Colonist and Mr. Earle to declare their principles is perfectly intelligible, and we are made to understand that Mr. Earle will vote and even work for the repeal of the Act to the best of his ability.

This is what is meant by "a generous but independent support of the Government," and it also means that Victoria has been made the dupe of a confidence game of the most stupendous proportions.

DIAMOND MINES.

In an account published in the Cape Colony four years ago it was estimated that the yield of diamonds at the Kimberley mine, from the opening in 1871 to the end of 1885, was about 17½ millions carats, equal to 3½ tons of precious stones, of the value of £26,000,000, and the total weight of reef and ground excavated exceeded 20,000,000 tons. The gross value of the diamonds produced by the De Beers mine in the same period was about £9,000,000 sterling, representing about 1½ tons weight of precious stones. Of the four African mines, Kimberley, De Beers, De Toit Pan and Bultfontein, the production in carats from 1882 to 1888 was 17,918,854, value, £19,172,095.

These totals do not include the production of some of the secondary mines, as Jagersfontein, Coffeefontein, and the alluvial washings of the Vaal river, etc., which may be valued at 150,000 to 300,000 carats yearly; nor the diamonds stolen, which are estimated at one fourth to one-fifth of all found. If we add to the above the quantity obtained previous to 1882, the entire production in the 18 years certainly exceeds 40,000,000 carats, or more than eight tons of diamonds, representing a value of at least £56,000,000 sterling, or $280,000,000. This large production of diamonds has necessarily had an effect in depreciating prices, and there have been considerable fluctuations from time to time, but by a combination of the several mining interests into the De Beers Consolidated Mining Company, Limited, with a capital of £12,000,000 sterling, the production will in future be limited to 2,000,000 or 2,500,000 carats per annum, a quantity sufficient to meet the current demand, and at which prices will be maintained.

TEMPERANCE REFORMERS.

Jacob Ingines writes to the Scientific American regarding alcoholism in Norway, to the effect that the liquor business of that country is under the management of an association, which is again controlled by the municipal authorities, that the goods are analyzed and examined before sold, that minors or intoxicated persons cannot buy any liquors, and [illegible] person can obtain. In the liquor shops there is no furniture, nor games of any kind allowed. The sale of liquors in bottles takes place in centrally located stations, and is run on the same principle as the retailing in glasses. The dividend of the business goes to pay for public improvements, such as the building of parks and highways, homes for aged people, reform schools for strayed children, and the like. The scheme has been in practical use now for several years, and so far has been very successful in diminishing the alcoholism and crime in the century.

Captain Zalinsky, of pneumatic gun fame, is now visiting Europe in the interest of the United States government. He has already visited England, Holland, Belgium, Denmark and Germany, and may go to Italy. With regard to an European war he regards it inevitable, but not likely to occur for at least two years yet. This length of time will be required for the nations to equip their armies with the new style rifle, and to modify their artillery to meet the requirements of smokeless powder. European armies now carry rifles with a bore about half the size used a quarter of a century ago. This results in a saving in the size and weight of ammunition, making it possible for soldiers to carry 140 rounds instead of only 80 as in former times. Captain Zalinsky is also of the opinion that there is no advantage in using high explosive cartridges in rifles. The rifle ball that kills or disables is surely enough as it is. We do not want to blow our enemies' bodies into fragments. In fact, we would rather wound their man than kill them, because every wounded man incapacitates at least two others, who have to look after him, whereas a dead man only needs burying and even that is sometimes omitted.

STANLEY HEARD FROM.

He is Expected to Arrive in Zanzibar Shortly.

London, Nov. 9.—Stanley's dispatch to Mr. McKinon says: "We have reached the Albert Nyanza from Banilya, for the third time in one hundred and forty days, and found Emin and Jephson, both of whom have been prisoners since August 18, 1888. The troops in the equatorial region revolted and shook off their allegiance. Soon after the Mahdists invaded the province in full force and the natives joined the invaders." Stanley found a letter for him near Albert Nyanza, exposing the dangerous position of the survivors, and urging immediate necessity for his arrival before the end of December. He arrived there on January 18th, and waited a long time for the fugitives to come. Mr. McKinnon says that the committee has ordered that supplies be pushed on to Mawapwa and beyond, if possible, to meet Stanley, who is expected to reach the coast in January or February.

Concerning the famous

Mason & Risch Pianos

Which the firm are constantly shipping to all parts of the world. That prominent musical authority, Walter E. Wall, Esq. (Fellow of the Royal College of Organists, London, England, and now organist of St. John's cathedral, Denver, Colorado), writes:

After a thorough testing of considerable severity of touch, I can safely say that I am thoroughly satisfied with the fine instrument you have selected for me. In tone and touch I never want a better piano and shall, as soon as possible, dispose of the Weber Grand I have, to possess one of yours for my own private use.

To-day the instrument had almost a semi-public examination by a skilled piano-tuner who is deeply interested in a firm here who are agents for Steinway, Weber, Knabe, Hardman, Fischer, Schmer, and a lot of other makers. It received at his hands "a pounding," not a playing, and he said as he finished, "Well, it is impossible to find the slightest fault with it. I think we'll try and get the agency."

Mr. Hall is not the only musician who has changed a piano of one of the noted makers of the United States for one of this firm's celebrated instruments, as the firm have now on hand at their warerooms a very large stock of second-hand pianos, among which are Steinway's, Chickering's, Weber's, Haselton's, and other first-class makers, which they have taken in exchange for theirs, which fact may be accepted as a fair indication of the merits of a piano which can thus displace those of high-class American manufacture.

DR. TALMAGE SAILS AWAY.

HE DICTATES A FAREWELL SERMON TO ALL HIS READERS.

He Is Going to the Holy Land and Already Feels the Inspiration of Nazareth and Bethlehem, Capernaum and Jerusalem—Good Practical Applications.

NEW YORK, ON BOARD THE CITY OF PARIS, Oct. 29.—The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., of Brooklyn, on his embarkation for the Holy Land, by the steamer City of Paris, addressed his millions of friends through the press, taking for his text Acts xx, 38: "And they accompanied him unto the ship." His sermon is printed below at full length.

To the more than twenty-five million people in many countries to whom my sermons come week by week, in English tongue and by translation, through the kindness of the newspaper press, I address these words. I dictate them to a stenographer on the eve of my departure for the Holy Land, Palestine. When you read this sermon I will be mid-Atlantic. I go to be gone a few weeks on a religious journey. I go because I want for myself and hearers and readers to see Bethlehem, and Nazareth, and Jerusalem, and Calvary, and all the other places connected with the Saviour's life and death, and so re-enforce myself for sermons. I go also because I am writing the "Life of Christ," and can be more accurate and graphic when I have been an eye witness of the sacred places. Pray for my successful journeying and my safe return.

I wish on the eve of departure to pronounce a loving benediction upon all my friends in high places and low, upon congregations to whom my sermons are read in absence of pastors, upon groups gathered out on prairies, and in mining districts, upon all sick and invalid and aged ones who cannot attend churches, but to whom I have long administered through the printed page. My next sermon will be addressed to you from Rome, Italy, for I feel like Paul when he said: "So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also." The fact is that Paul was ever moving about on land or sea. He was an old sailor—not from occupation, but from frequency of travel. I think he could have taken a vessel across the Mediterranean as well as some of the ship captains. The sailors never scoffed at him for being a "land lubber." If Paul's advice had been taken, the crew would never have gone ashore at Melita.

PAUL ON THE OCEAN.

When the vessel went scudding under bare poles Paul was the only self possessed man on board, and, turning to the excited crew and despairing passengers, he exclaims, in a voice that sounds above the thunder of the tempest and the wrath of the sea: "Be of good cheer."

The men who now go to sea with maps, and charts, and modern compass, warned by buoy and lighthouse, know nothing of the perils of ancient navigation. Horace said that the man who first ventured on the sea must have had a heart bound with oak and triple brass. People then ventured only from headland to headland, and from island to island, and not until long after spread their sail for a voyage across the sea. Before starting, the weather was watched, and the vessel having been hauled up on the shore, the mariners placed their shoulders against the stern of the ship and heaved it off—they, at the last moment, leaping into it.

Vessels were then chiefly ships of burden—the transit of passengers being the exception; for the world was not then migratory, as in our day, when the first desire of a man in one place seems to be to get into another place. The ship from which Jonah was thrown overboard, and that in which Paul was carried prisoner, went out chiefly with the idea of taking a cargo. As now, so then, vessels were accustomed to carry a flag. In those times it was inscribed with the name of a heathen deity. A vessel bound for Syracuse had on it the inscription, "Castor and Pollux." The ships were provided with anchors. Anchors were of two kinds—those that were dropped into the sea, and those that were thrown up on to the rocks to hold the vessel fast. This last kind was what Paul alluded to when he said: "Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the vail." That was what the sailors call a "hook anchor." The rocks and sand bars, shoals and headlands not being mapped out, vessels carried a plumb line. They would drop it and find the water fifty fathoms, and drop it again and find it forty fathoms, and drop it again and find it thirty fathoms, thus discovering their near approach to the shore.

In the spring, summer and autumn the Mediterranean sea was white with the wings of ships, but at the first wintry blast they hied themselves to the nearest harbor; although now the world's commerce prospers in January as well as in June, and in midwinter all over the wide and stormy deep there float palaces of light, trampling the billows under foot and showering the sparks of terrible furnaces on the wild wind; and the Christian passenger, tippeted and shawled, sits under the shelter of the smokestack, looking off upon the phosphorescent deep, on which is written in scrolls of foam and fire: "Thy way, O God, is in the sea, and thy path in the great waters!"

It is in those days of early navigation that I see a group of men, women and children on the beach of the Mediterranean. Paul is about to leave the congregation to whom he had preached, and they are come down to see him off. It is a solemn thing to part. There are so many traps that wait for a man's foot. The solid ground may break through, and the sea—how many dark mysteries it hides in its bosom! A few counsels, a hasty good-by, a last look, and the ropes rattle, and the sails are hoisted, and the planks are hauled in, and Paul is gone. I expect to sail over some of the same waters over which Paul sailed, but before going I want to urge you all to embark for heaven.

The church is the dry dock where souls are to be fitted out for heaven. In making a vessel for this voyage, the first need is sound timber. The floor timbers ought to be of solid stuff. For the want of it, vessels that looked able to run their jibboons into the eye of any tempest, when caught in a storm have been crushed like a wafer. The truths of God's Word are what I mean by floor timbers. Away with your lighter materials. Nothing but oaks, hewn in the forest of divine truth, are stench enough for this craft.

STRIKING MARITIME SIMILES.

You must have love for a helm, to guide and turn the craft. Neither pride, nor ambition, nor avarice will do for a rudder. Love, not only in the heart, but flashing in the eye and tingling in the hand—love married to work, which many look upon as so homely a bride—love, not like brooks which foam and rattle yet do nothing, but love like a river that runs up the steps of mill wheels and works in the furnace of factory hands—love that will not pass by on the other side, but visits the man who fell among thieves near Jericho, not merely saying: "Poor fellow! you are dreadfully hurt," but, like the good Samaritan, pours in oil and wine and pays his board at the tavern. There must also be a prow, arranged to cut and override the billow. That is Christian perseverance.

There are three mountain surges that sometimes dash against a soul in a minute—the world, the flesh, and the devil; and that is a well built prow that can bound over them. For lack of this, many have put back and never started again. In the broadside wave that so often swept the flock and fills the hatches; but that which strikes in front is harmless. Most troubles courageously and you surmount them. Stand on the prow, and, as you wipe off the spray of the split surge, cry out with the apostle: "None of these things move me." Let all your fears stay off. The right must conquer. Know that Moses, in an act of bulrushes, can run down a Pharaoh.

THE ANCHOR OF HOPE.

Have a good, strong anchor. "Which hope we have as an anchor." By this strong cable and windlass, hold on to your anchor. "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father." Do not use the anchor wrongfully. Do not always stay in the same latitude and longitude. You will never ride up the harbor of Eternal Rest if you all the way drag your anchor.

But you must have sails. Vessels are not fit for the sea until they have the flying jib, the foresail, the topgallant, the skysail, the gaffsail and other canvas. Faith is our canvas. Hoist it and the winds of heaven will drive you ahead. Sails made out of any other canvas than faith will be slit to tatters by the first northeaster. Strong faith never lost a battle. It will crush foes, blast rocks, shield to the warrior, a crank to the most ponderous wheel, a lever to pry up pyramids, a drum whose beat gives strength to the step of the heavenly soldiery, and sails to waft ships laden with priceless pearls from the harbor of earth to the harbor of heaven.

But you are not yet equipped. You must have what seamen call the running rigging. This comprises the ship's braces, halliards, clew lines and such like. Without these the yards could not be braced, the sails lifted nor the canvas in anywise managed. We have prayer for the running rigging. Unless you understand this tackling you are not a spiritual seaman. By pulling on these ropes you hoist the sails of faith and turn them every whither. The prow of courage will not cut the waves, nor the sail of faith spread and flap its wing, unless you have strong prayer for a halliard.

One more arrangement and you will be ready for the sea. You must have a compass—which is the Bible. Look at it every day, and always sail by it, as its needle points toward the Star of Bethlehem. Through fog and darkness and storm it works faithfully. Search the Scriptures. "Box the compass."

Let me give you two or three rules for the voyage. Allow your appetites and passions only an under deck passage. Do not allow them ever to come up on the promenade deck. Mortify your members which are upon the earth. Never allow your lower nature anything better than a steerage passage. Let watchfulness walk the decks as an armed sentinel, and shoot down with great promptness anything like a mutiny of riotous appetites.

Be sure to look out of the forecastle for icebergs. These are cold Christians floating about in the church. The frigid zone professors will sink you. Steer clear of icebergs. Keep a log book during all the voyage—an account of how many furlongs you make a day. The merchant keeps a day book as well as a ledger. You ought to know every night, as well as every year, how things are going. When the express train stops at the depot you hear a hammer sounding on all the wheels, thus testing the safety of the railtrain. Bound, as we are, with more than express speed toward a great eternity, ought we not often to try the work of self examination?

Be sure to keep your colors up! You know the ships of England, Russia, France and Spain by the ensigns they carry. Sometimes it is a lion, sometimes an eagle, sometimes a star, sometimes a crown. Let it ever be known who you are, and for what port you are bound. Let "Christian" be written on the very front, with a figure of a cross, a crown and a dove; and from the masthead let float the streamers of Immanuel. Then the pirate vessels of temptation will pass you unharmed as they say: "There goes a Christian; bound for the port of heaven. We will not disturb her, for she has too many guns aboard." Run up your flag on this pulley: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God and the wisdom of God unto salvation." When driven back, or laboring under great stress of weather—now changing from starboard tack to larboard, and then from larboard to starboard—look above the topgallants, and your heart shall beat like a war drum as the streamers float on the wind. The sign of the cross will make you patient, and the crown will make you glad.

THE VOYAGE TO ETERNITY.

Before you gain port you will smell the land breezes of heaven; and Christ, the Pilot, will meet you as you come into the Narrows of Death, and fasten to you, and say: "When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee." Are you ready for such a voyage? Make up your minds. The gangplanks are lifting. The bell rings. All aboard for heaven! This world is not your home. The chaffinch is the silliest bird in all the earth for trying to make its nest on the rocking billow. Oh, how I wish that as I embark for the Holy Land in the east, all to whom I preach by tongue or type would embark for heaven. What you all most need is God, and you need him now. Some of you I leave in trouble. Things are going very rough with you. You have had a hard struggle with poverty, or sickness or persecution or bereavement. Light after light has gone out and it is so dark that you can hardly see any blessing left. May that Jesus who comforted the widow of Nain, and raised the deceased to life, with his gentle hand of sympathy wipe away your tears. All is well.

When David was fleeing through the wilderness, pursued by his own son, he was being prepared to become the sweet singer of Israel. The pit and the dungeon were the best schools at which Joseph ever graduated. The hurricane that upset the tent and killed Job's children prepared the man of Uz to write the magnificent poem that has astounded the ages. There is no way to get the wheat out of the straw but to thresh it. There is no way to purify the gold but to burn it. Look at the people who have always had it their own way. They are proud, discontented, useless and unhappy. If you want to find cheerful folks, go among those who have been purified by the fire. After Rossini had rendered "William Tell" the five hundredth time, a company of musicians came under his window in Paris and serenaded him. They put upon his brow a golden crown of laurel leaves. But amidst all the applause and enthusiasm Rossini turned to a friend and said: "I would give all this brilliant scene for a few days of youth and love." Contrast the melancholy feeling of Rossini, who had everything that this world could give him, to the joyful experience of Isaac Watts, whose misfortunes were innumerable, when he says:

The hill of Zion yields
A thousand sacred sweets,
Before we reach the heavenly fields
Or walk the golden streets.

Then let our songs abound,
And every tear be dry;
We're marching through Immanuel's ground,
To fairer worlds on high.

It is prosperity that kills and trouble that saves. While the Israelites were on the march, amidst great privations and hardships, they behaved well. After awhile, they prayed for meat, and the sky darkened with a large flock of quails, and these quails fell in great multitudes all about them; and the Israelites ate and ate, and stuffed themselves until they died. Oh! my friends, it is not hardship, or trial, or starvation that injures the soul, but abundant supply. It is not the vulture of trouble that eats up the Christian's life; it is the quails! It is the quails!

I cannot leave you until once more I confess my faith in the Saviour whom I have preached. He is my all in all. I owe more to the grace of God than most men. With this ardent temperament, if I had gone overboard I would have gone to the very depths. You know I can do nothing by halves.

O to grace how great a debtor
Daily I'm constrained to be!

I think all will be well. Do not be worried about me. I know that my Redeemer liveth, and if any fatality should befall me, I think I should go straight. I have been most unworthy, and would be sorry to think that any one of my friends had been as unworthy as Christian as myself. But God has helped a great many through, and I hope he will help me through. It is a long account of shortcomings but if he is going to rub any of it out, I think he will rub it all out.

And now give us (for I go not alone) your benediction. When you send letters to a friend in a distant land, you say via such a city, or via such a steamer. When you send your good wishes to us, send them via the throne of God. We shall not travel out of the reach of your prayers.

There's a scene where spirits dwell,
Where friend holds intercourse with friend;
Though sundered far, by faith we meet
Around one common mercy seat.

And now, may the blessing of God come down upon your bodies and upon your souls, your fathers and mothers, your companions, your children, your brothers and sisters, and your friends! May you be blessed in your business and in your pleasures, in your joys and in your sorrows, in the house and by the way! And if, during our separation, an arrow from the unseen world should strike any of us, may it only hasten on the rapture that God has prepared for those who love him! I utter not the word farewell; it is too sad, too formal a word for me to speak or write. But, considering that I have your hand tightly clasped in both of mine, I utter a kind, an affectionate and a cheerful good-by!

Saunders' sawmill and cannery buildings at Rivers Inlet. This fine property is situated at the mouth of the O-wee-kay-noo river, and occupies one of the best sites on the Inlet. Only the salting of salmon has been carried on here up to the present time, but a complete canning outfit will be put in this winter and both cannery and sawmill operated next year.

The general programme of the reception given by the city of Victoria to His Excellency the Governor-General, has been handsomely lithographed, with a portrait of His Excellency on the first page, the whole forming a neat souvenir of the event. Parties wishing to procure one can do so by applying at the bookstores. No charge.

The Alaska Steamer.

The City of Topeka will leave here for Alaska on her initial trip, to-morrow afternoon. The City of Topeka will make a splendid boat for the Alaska trade. She has large freight accommodations, and has sleeping accommodations for 62 persons. Her speed is good, her decks are large as the Ancon's were, and what stateroome she has are large and roomy.

The Shark Preserved.

Mr. Bayley, of the Half Way House, Esquimalt road, has purchased the large black shark caught in Esquimalt harbor a few days ago and is having it preserved by Mr. Whittaker for the private museum of the Half Way House hostelry. Mine host is always enterprising. His decoration during the visit of Lord and Lady Stanley were well worthy of mention, being in no way second to that of any other private citizen.

The Wolf's Wail.

The petition of the wolf, read at the board meeting last night will meet with an answer in accordance with the request. His petition caused some fun when it was read, the mayor remarking that he hoped it was not a wolf in sheep's clothing. The chairman of the park committee proposed gravely to furnish the poor wolf with a Bull's hide. Anyhow the quarters are to be made more comfortable for his wolfship.

Schooner Lost.

The Indian schooner Sierra, which left Victoria about three weeks ago for the west coast, was wrecked on the west side of Barclay Sound ten days ago. The schooner drifted ashore in a calm and filled with water. The vessel had just been repaired in Victoria at a cost of $500, and was worth about one thousand dollars. She was owned by Uclulet Charlie, and was used for sealing. She was originally owned by Handy, of San Francisco, and was seized in Behring Sea in 1887.

The Champion and Fog.

Capt. Cavin of the steamer Rainbow met H.M.S. Champion with the vice-regal party on board in Plumper's Pass yesterday afternoon at 1:45. The Champion encountered no thick fog as far as Plumper's Pass, but when striking the gulf a fog bank extending two miles out stared the vessel in the face. Seeing this the commander turned round and hove to in a sheltered spot. Capt. Cavin passed through the fog safely, but says it was as thick as could possibly be.

To be Washed.

The police committee last night reported to the board of aldermen, recommending that alterations be made in the city hall additions, so that bath accommodation could be provided for city prisoners. Should this pass the chances are that all wags will steer clear of Victoria, for when it is proposed to wash prisoners that will be sufficient determent to them not to get into the clutches of the police. Six months hard labor would be preferred to a bath by many of the criminal class.

Voracious Geese.

A resident of Spring Ridge, who is certainly something of a wag, wrote a letter to the city council complaining of the bad state of the streets in his neighborhood, and stating what little gravel had been put on the streets had been eaten up by the flocks of geese which stray about. When the letter was read last night one of the aldermen suggested that if the geese ate such quantities of gravel they would weigh heavily for the Christmas market, consequently the city should be entitled to monetary compensation from the owners of the geese.

Loose Lightning.

A telegraph wire fell across the electric railway wire at Seattle on Friday, and the way that the boys lightning scooted around was a caution. In almost an instant of time the telegraph wire was fused by the intense current it was being filled with, and following down its line and struck a lot of telephone wires, producing a rumpus in every telephone connected to them and knocking the switchboard attendant out in the quickest time on record, at the same time setting fire to the board. Before the current could be shut off many more things were shook up and several people frightened considerably. Repairs have since been effected.

The Grismers.

Joseph Grismer and Phœbe Davies and their own company will appear at the Victoria Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings next, November 12th and 13th, producing for the first time here on Tuesday night the great London and New York success, "The Tigress," a dramatization from the novel "Cruelty Her," which was first produced at the Star Theatre, New York city, and ran for over ninety-five nights to packed houses, and was also presented over in London last summer with great success. The play is on the order of "Called Back," "Monte Cristo," and "As in a Looking Glass." "The Burglar," will be presented on Wednesday night. As both plays are new here we predict crowded houses. Seats now on sale at Watt's book store.

Marine Gossip.

The bark Tythonus was towed to sea to-day.

The new boiler for the steamer Hope has been lowered into position.

It is rumored that H. M. S. Icarus has orders to sail for England next Sunday.

A large consignment of coal oil was brought over by the Olympian last night.

The schooner William Renton, loading lumber at Westminster, is nearly ready for sea.

The need of better fog signals is being brought forcibly to the minds of mariners just now.

One hundred and five tons of freight for Victoria was brought up by the Umatilla last night.

The tug Pilot having had her annual overhaul, goes into commission to-day and towed out the bark Tythonus.

The steamer Isabel, which has been laid up for several days being inspected, will go on the Comox route on Tuesday.

The O. R. & N. Co.'s steamer Geo. E. Starr, has been libelled as an outcome of the collision with the steamer Eliza Anderson last March.

The American steamer City of Sydney left the Orient the same time as the Parthia, but she has not yet arrived at her port of destination.

There is talk to the effect that when the O. R. & N. Co.'s new boat goes on the Victoria route that the North Pacific will be put on the Port Townsend-Neah Bay route.

The crews of the two steamers City of Topeka and Corona, changed boats at Seattle lately. Capt. Wallace, of the Ancon, is in charge of the former, while Capt. Gregory is at the head of affairs on the Corona.

Suitable for gourmands—Special Favours.

VICTORIA'S CITY SOLONS.

Transaction of Civic Business by the Board of Aldermen.

The regular weekly meeting of the board of aldermen was held last night owing to a postponement on Wednesday evening. Present: His Worship Mayor Grant in the chair, and Ald. McKillican, Harrison, Kelly, Wilson, Goodacre, Coughlan and Vigelius. Routine business having been transacted Clerk Dowler read the following batch of COMMUNICATIONS.

From S. P. Mills, instructed by Mrs. Archibald, stating that legal proceedings would be instituted unless the board relinquished its present intentions in re the land required for a right of way through from Yates street to Fort street. Referred to a special committee for report.

From Henry Behnson in the name of the ratepayers Spring Ridge, complaining of the bad state of the roads there, and stating that the gravel of the streets had been eaten up by geese. Referred to the street committee with power to act.

From R. F. John enclosing account for keep of city prisoners at provincial jail. Referred to police and finance committees.

From Chas. Gowen asking permission to connect with the Johnson street sewer. Referred to committee with power to act.

From A. Heathorn calling attention to bad state of the foot of Johnson street. Referred to street committee with power to act.

TRAMWAY MATTERS.

From J. L. Raymur making a statement of the amount of cash already spent by the National Electric Co., which now exceeded $15,000.

It was explained that this matter was in reference to the debentures to be given by the city.

Ald. Wilson thought that no action should be taken until the streets were put in a more passable condition.

Ald. Coughlan differed, as he was confident were a proper communication addressed to the company it would be put right.

Ald. Harrison thought the streets should be put in order as the work went on. He was anxious to help the company on, but he wanted them to stick to what was right.

Mr. Leech, city surveyor, being called upon, stated he had notified Mr. Patterson to make all crossings good.

The Mayor explained that the secretary of the company was the one to notify. He further read the bylaw in reference to the construction of the tramway lines. A comment on the commendable energy with which the work of track laying was going on was also made.

The communication was referred to the finance committee and spread on the minutes.

From P. T. Johnson complaining of the breaking of a sidewalk near his property by the work on the tramway. Referred to the city surveyor.

A CRY FOR COVER.

A prayer from the city wolf from his cage at Beacon Hill asking for better shelter, was referred to the park committee with power to act.

From Eberts & Taylor enclosing documents for the seal of the city. Received and filed.

From Garnkirk & Co, re fire bricks. Referred to the sewerage committee.

ACCOUNTS.

Accounts for the month amounting to $7,849 were passed for payment.

STEEL MAIN TENDERS.

A resolution to call for tenders for construction of 6,000 feet of steel water pipes was carried.

REPORTS.

From the street committee recommending work on Belcher and View streets. Adopted.

From the police committee recommending that certain alterations be made in the plans of the city hall additions that both accommodations and other changes be provided for city prisoners. Adopted.

From the water committee as follows:—

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 6th, 1889.

To His Worship the Mayor and Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Water Committee realising the importance of the Victoria Water Works keeping pace with the unparalleled growth of the city, have the honor to submit the following report for your consideration:

When that portion of the 12-inch main between the Gorge road and the dam was laid, provision was made for a second main to be laid alongside the trestle work, through the rock cuts and along the causeway; so everything is now in readiness for that portion of the work to be completed.

The section of the old 12-inch main, cast iron, between the Gorge road and the dam is not equal in efficiency to the remaining sections of the old 12-inch main, and needs replacing immediately.

The section of the old 12-inch, cast iron, main on Douglas street between the fountain and Queen's avenue lies underneath the sidewalk, and in places on the surface of the ground, and likewise needs relaying in its proper position in the street; but as it requires that the alternative line in the street should be laid in readiness to allow the water to flow through it before the water is diverted from the old line, and at present ruling prices for cast iron pipes, this would involve a large outlay of money.

Your committee recommend that tenders be invited for the construction and laying of 6,000 feet of steel main, of 24 inches minimum internal diameter, from the dam at the lake in the direction of the city. The work to be commenced within thirty days of the signing of the contract, and to be proceeded with as expeditiously as possible.

The pipe to be constructed of mild steel of a thickness of .350 of an inch; that is, No. 6 B. W. G., and weighing six and two-third pounds per square foot.

The specification for the 16-inch steel main in all other particulars to be a portion of the contract.

By adopting the above the city will at once have 5,500 feet of 12-inch cast iron pipes available for city distribution, thus greatly increasing the efficiency of the supply to the city and reducing the cost of such increase to a minimum.

The whole of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN COUGHLAN,
W. D. MCKILLICAN,
WM. WILSON,
Water Committee.

Adopted.

MORE SEWERAGE.

The matter of drawing up a by-law for a loan for sewerage purposes came up, and after some discussion it was decided to hold a special meeting Monday evening next, to further discuss the matter. The district telegraph by-law is also to be taken up at the same time.

JOHNSON STREET.

His Worship called attention to the bad state of Johnson street and said it was time that something should be done, as were it allowed to remain in its present condition when the wet weather came on the street would be well nigh impassable by reason of the mud. He would recommend that the city surveyor be instructed to look after it.

RIGHT OF WAY.

Ald. McKillican rose to say that the parties who owned the land near where the city wished to run a right of way through from Yates to Fort street, would dispose of their land for $800. He would recommend that a special committee be empowered to make the purchase.

Ald. Wilson made an amendment to the effect that he would like to see the matter settled right now.

On motion the matter was left in the hands of a special committee.

At 9:20 o'clock the meeting adjourned.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Rev. W. W. Baer will preach in the Gorge Road church to-morrow both morning and evening. In compliance with request the discourse in the evening will be specially to young men.

Thirty Years Ago.

Over thirty years ago there was placed upon the market a remedy designed to relieve pain and capable of either external or internal use. From the first it has had wonderful success, and hundreds testify that Hagyard's Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, sore throat, sprains, croup, cuts, bruises and all pains and aches.

Art Notice.

After laying down the rails for the principal routes, the Tramway Company find that there are enough left to run a line to Beacon Hill Park, which the company, in its wisdom and enterprise, will no doubt proceed to construct as soon as possible.

The Prince's Birthday.

To-day the Prince of Wales reached his 48th birthday. Years ago the event was celebrated in Victoria as a half-holiday, and horse racing was a feature. The day has now apparently been forgotten, for to-day hardly a flag was to be seen floating in honor of the event.

Acknowledged the Gift.

Mr. B. Levy, cigar manufacturer, manufactured specially for Lord Stanley's use while here a fine box of cigars, labelled with the Derby coat-of-arms. His Excellency enjoys the fragrant weed daily and was pleased with the gift, which he acknowledged in a letter of thanks and best wishes for the manufacturer's future prosperity.

New Steamer.

To-morrow morning Mr. Alex. Watson, the well-known shipbuilder, will leave for Revelstoke with several ship carpenters to commence work on a new stern-wheel steamer for the interior waters. The vessel is to be built for Messrs. Irving & Mara, and will be 131 feet long by 25 feet beam. The boat will be framed and planked during the fall, and in the spring she will be completed and put to work.

Salvation Army.

Lurid posters are pasted on dead walls about the city announcing that the newly appointed Commissioner Adams of the Salvation Army, accompanied by Staff Captain Nellie Banks, who is in charge of the training home at Toronto, Capt. Bella Grant, the nightingale of the Army, Ensign Plaut, the Scottish musical wonder, and Adj. Scott, the Glory Tom of the west, are coming here to make war on His Satanic Majesty.

Got Away With Them.

The one-legged colored man, Williams, whom the Victoria police were telegraphed to arrest, says the Free Press, as he was wanted here for stealing a watch and chain it appears was too much for the Victoria police, for while watching the Sound steamer, the wanted thief got on to the steamer where he secreted himself in the bunkers, till he was outside the harbor, then he placed his finger to his nose and spoke most bonlemptuously of the police.

Fined for Disturbance.

His Honor took occasion to remark in the police court this morning that if any of the demi-monde came before him charged with being inmates or keepers of houses of ill fame, he should inflict a fine of $50. One of the unfortunates was charged in court with creating a disturbance, and as the information did not specify anything more serious, the majesty of the law was vindicated by a fine of $5. Truly the ramifications of the law are wonderful.
